Questions:

1. Nowadays most people are against using animals as test subjects in medical and beauty industries. Yet, it is also considered by many unethical to test new medicine or chemical products on human subjects. Please, discuss both pros and cons of this dilemma.

2. Many people also claim that being a vegetarian is a way to improve our environment, but doctors also warn us about the harm of the ultra vegan/vegetarian diet. What is your opinion about this?

3. Nowadays there is a wide range of TV programs. But instead of watching educational programs, news or documentary films, more and more people prefer to watch TV shows, soap operas or serials. And this negatively affects knowledge acquisition skills. What are the primary causes of this tendency? How is it possible to make educational TV programs more popular?

4: Media surrounds us; from the shows we watch on television to the music we listen to on the radio. How does the media affect society? Do you agree that the impact of media has more disadvantages than benefits?

5: Children and teenagers tend to idolize celebrities and imitate their behaviour/looks. Do you think that celebrities are good role models and what do you think can be the consequences of the glamorous lifestyle being advertised in the media?
